SAFETY INFORMATION

About Photosensitive Seizures
A very small percentage of people may experience a seizure when exposed to certain visual images, including flashing lights or patterns that may appear in video games. Even people who have no history of seizures or epilepsy may have an undiagnosed condition that can cause these "photosensitive epileptic seizures" while watching video games.

These seizures may have a variety of symptoms, including lightheadedness, altered vision, eye or face twitching, jerking or shaking of arms or legs, disorientation, confusion, or momentary loss of awareness. Seizures may also cause loss of consciousness or convulsions that can lead to injury from falling down or striking nearby objects.

Immediately stop playing and consult a doctor if you experience any of these symptoms. Parents should watch for or ask their children about the above symptoms — children and teenagers are more likely than adults to experience these seizures.

The risk of photosensitive epileptic seizures may be reduced by sitting farther from the television screen, using a smaller television screen, playing in a well-lit room, and not playing when you are drowsy or fatigued.

If you or any of your relatives have a history of seizures or epilepsy, consult a doctor before playing.

Other Important Health and Safety Information The Xbox Instruction Manual contains important health and safety information that you should read and understand before using this software.

Avoid Damage to Your Television
Do not use with certain televisions. Some televisions, especially front- or rear-projection types, can be damaged if any video games, including Xbox games, are played on them. Static images presented during the normal course of game play may "burn in" to the screen, causing a permanent shadow of the static image to appear at all times, even when video games are not being played. Similar damage may occur from static images created when placing a video game on hold or pause. Consult your television owner's manual to determine if video games can be played safely on your set. If you are unable to find this information in the owner's manual, contact your television dealer or the manufacturer to determine if video games can be played safely on your set.

Unauthorized copying, reverse engineering, transmission, public performance, rental, pay for play, or circumvention of copy protection is strictly prohibited.

THE STORY SO FAR
One hundred and fifty years ago, a new and growing darkness descended upon the peaceful land of Baele. The wizard Kaedin had opened four portals, each leading to a different plane of existence, and harnessed the power of the planes to create four different Gems, each as strong as the plane that bore it. He then created a fifth Gem to channel the power of the wind itself and entrusted it to a fearsome beholder who protects it to this day.

With these Gems, he became more powerful — and more malevolent — than any wizard ever known. Town after town fell in his wake, and the future was uncertain at best. Fearing its demise, the Kingdom of Baele called for its best and brightest, and four brave souls answered the call.

They traveled to Kaedin's castle, confronted the wizard, and against all odds, they defeated him. But in the seconds before he died, Kaedin cast a spell to kill them all.

With his death, the grateful citizens of Baele tore down Kaedin's castle. The Gems were banished to the planes and the entrance to the portals was sealed, trapping the beholder within. A new castle was built on top of the remains, the present day Castle Baele.

Meanwhile, the four Heroes were given a champion's burial, and Kaedin's remains were tossed in an unmarked crypt...

One hundred and fifty years later, a group of evil clerics sought to channel the dead wizard's power as their own, but the power they hoped to control quickly killed them all.

Now Kaedin is alive once more, and his castle has reformed, magically suspended in the sky high above Baele. A darkness brews in the winds around it, and Baele's troubled elders recount stories from long ago, when town after town was destroyed, and the Gems' powers terrified them all.

The four Heroes who defeated Kaedin are once again called forth. They are weak and have lost nearly all their former power, but their courage will see them through as they fight to regain all they have lost and become Heroes once again!
The Fighter

Far north of Baelie across the Nelsuan Sea, a young fighter lost his father to death in battle on the island of Axion.

He would hear the tale with thanks for years to come: how his father had engaged a fierce nightwalker, and holding it at bay, allowed 34 warriors to escape safely into the night, losing his own life in the effort. The gratitude of the survivors and their families made a great impression upon the boy, and deeply rooted his conviction that evil must be stopped at all costs, even if that cost be life itself.

Taking one of his father's prized swords, he set out for the Kingdom of Baelie to train with its renowned Armed Guard, but it would be many years before he arrived. Barely a week away from home, he was asked to join a group of even adventurers. Knowing their cause to be good and their need for help to be great, he readily agreed to accompany them.

The elves were to be the first in a long line of people seeking his assistance, none of whom he could bear to turn away. Fighting alongside dwarves, halflings, elves, and gnomes, he watched and learned, and driven by a deep devotion, he perfected the art of melee combat and became a disciplined shot with thrown weapons. As the years passed, he became the land's toughest, fastest, and most revered fighter, and some said that his skill with a sword approached magic.

When at last he arrived in Baelie, nearly nine years after he left his home, his skill was beyond those that he had hoped to learn from, yet his timing could not have been better. Baelie needed heroes to defeat a wizard bent on the Kingdom's destruction. Sword in hand, he stood ready.

Now, raised from the dead over 150 years later, he will be a Hero again.

The Wizard

She had been raised in Baelie, the daughter of two good elven wizards. Like her parents, she was trained with her staff but even more adept with her magic, and she readily accompanied those seeking adventure.

Naturally, she had heard of the wizard Kaedin. Any wizard who was any wizard had heard of him. He was a recluse, known to be among the most powerful in the land, and had anyone asked her, she might have even conceded that she once longed to be like him, to wield such powerful magic. But that was before Kaedin showed the darkness of his heart.

Some in her guild declared him mad, others thought him a greedy interloper, but no one expected him to become outright bloodthirsty. In the midst of an otherwise peaceful day, he came down from his castle and destroyed a nearby village, and on its heels, he laid waste to another.

The clerics of Pelor feared for Baelie and gathered all the Kingdom's casters before them. Wizards, sorcerers, druids, clerics, bards, and even a few paladins and rangers crowded the market square.

"If your power be equal to that of Kaedin, bring yourself forward." Not a soul moved. They asked again for someone willing to face Kaedin. None stepped forth.

To this day, she cannot explain what happened next. Was it the god Corellon Larethian's hand at her back or her good training? Her small feet stepped forth. Hundreds of casters, her friends and peers, looked on. Although she knew that many could match or even better her skills, apparently none could match her courage. She had chosen to face a wizard she once revered.

Now, over 150 years passed, in this life, she confidently steps forward again.
THE CLERIC

As a proficient healer and capable combatant, he was a prized member of many an adventuring party throughout the dwarven lands of Savoneer. A cleric of the god Moradin, his home was at the altar and in battle, delivering his god's will through his magic and mighty warhammer.

It was a simple quest that brought him to Bael or more than 150 years ago. The evil Duergar, who had failed to learn their lesson despite the painful and numerous beatings he and his fellow good dwarves gave them, had recently raided an old dwarven woman's cottage and made off with a vase that caught their fancy. The vase, however, contained the ashes of the woman's husband. He chased the Duergar through swamp, muck, and mire all the way to the outskirts of Bael where at last he overpowered the leader and retrieved the vase.

Seeking a bit of celebratory drink, he headed into Bael proper and found an anxious village awaiting its own destruction. Patrons at the Dragon's Tankard told him of a wizard named Kaedin who had already turned two villages to ruins. They feared Bael was next.

After doing his best to calm the nerves of those who sought his council, he sat down his tankard and began preparations for battle. He felt certain his arrival here in Bael had been Moradin's will all along, the vase but a ploy. Meeting with the clerics of Bael, he offered his services in the name of Moradin wherever they should see fit to use him.

Over 150 years later, Moradin's will has raised him again.

THE ROGUE

Orphaned at the age of five, she was left in the care of the Seven Stars Crew, a feared and evil rogue outfit of which her parents had been members. Her future seemed set in stone.

Although the crew was rough around the edges, it nonetheless cared for its own quite well, and many of its senior members took to instructing the young rogue in the finer points of skullduggery. They began to include her in jobs, small ones at first, but gradually the missions increased in complexity and danger. Her small size was invaluable, and she showed an incredible proficiency with a bow as well as blades.

It was while she was on a job with the crew that she had a fateful encounter whose full impact would not be seen for years to come.

The crew had been paid by an evil wizard to liberate two amulets that had been hidden away in separate temples. The job was easy and the pay was incredible. Secretly, the young rogue hoped to work for the generous wizard again.

Ten years later, that mission nearly forgotten, she was away from home when word came that her village had been destroyed, and with it all the family she had ever known. She shivered to hear the name behind such destruction: the wizard Kaedin. It was the same wizard her crew had worked for so many years before.

With this realization came emotions harbored deep within, accompanied by thoughts of what her life had become and the evil that she herself had wrought. When she heard the calling of the clerics of Pelor, she knew she must amend her ways such that evil may never triumph again.

Now more than 150 years later, her conviction is stronger still.

CONTROLLING YOUR HERO

Moving Around
To move your Hero around in the game world, move the left thumbstick and your Hero will move in the desired direction. To walk, slightly move the left thumbstick. To run, move on the left thumbstick all the way.

Rotating & Zooming The Camera
To rotate the camera, move the right thumbstick left/right. To zoom the camera, move the right thumbstick up/down. Note: In 2-4 player cooperative mode, the camera dynamically adjusts to keep all Heroes in view. All players can rotate or zoom the camera in cooperative mode.

Automap
You can display the Automap at any time by pressing the right thumbstick button. A colored arrow shows your Hero’s location. Questpoint indicators (carets) may also appear on the outer edge of the Automap. These indicators point you toward either a quest objective or the level’s exit, but not necessarily the best route. Press the right thumbstick button again to close the Automap.

Hero HUD

Your Hero’s HUD (Heads-Up Display) displays the following status information:
The red bar measures your Hero’s hit points, and the blue bar measures Mystical Will.
The number of Skeleton Keys, Healing Potions (red), and Mystical Will potions (blue) are also displayed.
The green Experience Bar tracks the Experience Points your Hero has gained. When it fills up, your Hero has gained a new level.

Action Menu
Below the HUD is the Action Menu (when displayed), which lists your current combat button configuration and Gem selection (if your Hero has learned how to employ the power of the Gems). Use the Action Menu to re-assign moves and items to your combat buttons. Pull and hold the right trigger to display the Action Menu (see “Action Menu” on page 19 for details).

Experience Points (XP)
Experience points are earned through adventuring (i.e., defeating monsters and completing quests). When a Hero earns enough XP, he or she levels up and may select new moves and traits or improve existing ones. Your Hero may also improve an ability score every fourth level (see “Level Up screen” on pages 28-29).

Hit Points (HP)
Hit points measure a Hero’s overall health, and they regenerate over time. As Heroes gain experience and reach new levels, they automatically gain additional HP and can survive more damage in combat.

Some Hero abilities and traits modify HP. A higher Constitution, for example, helps your Hero gain more HP when he or she gains a level.

Mystical Will (MW)
Mystical Will measures a Hero’s overall energy and regenerates over time. MW is expended each time a Hero uses a Power Move. The amount of MW needed for Power Moves varies depending on the power level of the Power Move (i.e., the more powerful the move is, the more MW you need to use it).

Like hit points, some Hero abilities and traits modify MW. For example, the Meditation and Inner Strength traits will help your Hero regenerate MW faster.
COMBAT

Combat Buttons
There are four combat buttons: one for your Hero's Melee Combo, two for Power Moves and another for items.

Melee Combo: A button
The Melee Combo combat button contains a Hero's basic melee attack. Press this button repeatedly to chain attacks together and complete the Melee Combo chain.

Power Move 1 & Power Move 2: X button & Y button
Most Power Moves execute when their combat button is pressed. Some moves are targeted: press and hold the combat button, move the target icon, and then release the combat button to unleash the spell. Note: some wizard spells are constant press and hold the combat button for a constantly streaming spell.

Item: B button
This combat button holds your inventory of useable items. You can assign most useable items to this combat button, including all thrown weapons (dagger, axe, etc.) as well as any potions or magical items that your Hero can use or lob.

Some useable items are targeted (aimed). These items will automatically target the closest enemy. However, you can also target manually. To target an item manually, press and hold the item combat button to display the targeting cursor. Use the left thumbstick or directional pad to aim, and then release the item combat button to throw the item.

Finishers
When your Hero acquires and assigns a Finisher move to one of the Power Move buttons, a Finisher Meter will appear on your Hero's HUD. Successful melee hits will cause the Finisher Meter to fill. When any of the Finisher Meter's dots are full, the Finisher move may be executed by pressing its assigned button. The more dots illuminated on the Finisher Meter, the stronger the execution of the Finisher move.

Gems
There are Planar Gems located throughout the game worlds. Once you have collected all five Gems, you can use these powerful totems to greatly enhance the damage dealt by your Hero's Ancestral Weapon.

---

Ancestral Weapon
Each Hero is equipped with a unique Ancestral Weapon. You begin your adventure with this weapon in hand. Note: You cannot sell or drop your Ancestral Weapon.

Soul Shards
One hundred and fifty years ago, the wizard Kaedin cast a curse upon your Hero's Ancestral Weapon: the weapon's powers crystallized and were scattered in the form of Soul Shards. Locate these Soul Shards to return your Ancestral Weapon to its former glory. For every five you find, your weapon will regain a portion of its power. There are a total of 20 Soul Shards scattered throughout the game worlds.

Action Menu
During a game, use the Action Menu to change your assigned Power Moves and items on-the-fly.

Blocking
To block an attack, pull the left trigger. Timing your blocks is essential when fighting higher level creatures. When your Hero blocks, he or she may be vulnerable from behind; a block at normal or higher game difficulty settings only covers 180 degrees in front of your Hero. Also, note that some creatures and some attacks cannot be blocked.
Hero Death
When your Hero's hit points are reduced to zero, your Hero will die. However, all is not lost! If you have a Raise Dead Amulet, you can bring your Hero back to life, without penalty, by pressing the START button. If you do not have a Raise Dead Amulet, you may continue from the beginning of the current level or load a saved game. In 2-4 player cooperative play, you may load a saved Hero from a saved game or create a new Hero, provided at least one other Hero is still alive.

ITEMS & PICK-UPS
You will find items throughout the game world. Simply walk over gold and items to pick them up. When you pick up gold, the quantity flashes below your HUD. When you pick up an item, its name flashes below your HUD.

Carrying Capacity
Base Strength, plus any modifiers, determines a Hero's carrying capacity. The stronger the Hero, the more he or she can carry. Some items allow you to magically modify your Hero's Strength allowing him or her to carry more than usual. You can view your Hero's carrying capacity in the Hero Review screen (see page 22).

Melee Weapon
Each Hero equips a melee weapon. Your Hero must be proficient in a weapon type before being able to use it (each Hero starts with at least one weapon proficiency). You can equip a melee weapon in the Hero Review screen.

Armor
Each Hero is capable of wearing several types of armor; each type offers progressively better protection qualities. Heroes must be proficient in an armor type before they can equip it (Heroes begin with proficiency in leather armor). Equip armor in the Hero Review screen.

Gold
Use your gold reserve to buy items from the shopkeepers.

Boxes, Barrels, & Vases
Boxes, barrels, and vases often contain hidden items and gold. Use your combat buttons to break them open. Beware! Some barrels contain poison gas or explosives!

Skeleton Keys
Skeleton keys open locked doors, gates, and treasure chests. Simply walk up to a locked object that you wish to open, and your Hero will use any skeleton keys from his or her inventory. Beware! Some treasure chests are trapped!

Throwing Weapons
There are a wide variety of throwing weapons available in the game. Axes, hammers, daggers and other assorted flying weaponry will aid your Hero in battle. To use a thrown weapon, first assign it to your item combat button, then press that button.

Drinkable Potions
Potions can replenish your Hero's hit points, Mystical Will, or enhance performance. To use a Healing Potion, press the White button. To use a Mystical Will Potion, press the Black button.

Throwing Potions
Some potions, such as Insect Plague and Fire Flask, are designed to be thrown in combat. Assign thrown potions to your item combat button to use them. All throwing potions are targeted attacks and function like any targeted attack — press and hold the assigned combat button, aim the target cursor, and release the button to throw!

Warp Stones
Warp Stones allow Heroes to channel the powers of Warp Points. When your Hero finds a Warp Point, he or she can use a Warp Stone to instantly transport everyone in the area to a Warp Point near Castle Bael's Shoppe, where the Heroes can buy items from the shopkeeper. When the Heroes are finished in the Shoppe, they simply walk back into the Warp Point and then warp back to the Warp Point where they came from. Note: Warp Stones can only be used at Warp Points. Warp Points are found only in specific locations in the game world.

Magic Items
Some magic items, such as Thunderstones or a Rod of Missiles, are usable and may be assigned to your item combat button. Other items, like Tomes or Elixirs, provide permanent upgrades to your Hero.
Rings & Necklaces
Rings and necklaces are hidden throughout the game world. Your Hero can also purchase them in the various shops. Some increase ability scores, while others offer protection bonuses. You can equip rings and necklaces via the Hero Review screen. Note: Your Hero is limited to wearing no more than two rings and one necklace at a time, with no two rings of the same type worn simultaneously.

Raise Dead Amulets
Raise Dead Amulets allow your Hero to rise from the dead after being slain in combat. Upon Hero death, if your Hero has a Raise Dead Amulet, simply press the START button before the on-screen countdown is finished to resurrect your Hero.

Levers & Pressure Plates
Levers and pressure plates have varied uses. Some disable traps, others open doors. To activate a lever or pressure plate, simply walk up to it.

Quest Items
During the course of your journey, you'll need to find specific items that allow you to complete quests. These items are known as quest items. When you find a quest item, it is placed into the Quests Items inventory, which is shared by all Heroes. You can view the Quest Items inventory in the Hero Review screen.

HERO REVIEW SCREEN
The Hero Review screen has six sub-screens that enable you to review combat items, preview and acquire new moves, view Hero abilities and stats, and view quest information and quest items. A three-dimensional representation of your Hero appears on the left of the screen, with current or total carrying capacity, current Hero Experience Level, and current or total HP and MW displayed below. The bottom left corner of the screen displays the Hero Queue if playing in cooperative mode.

Press the BACK button to display the Hero Review screen. To select one of the available screens, move the left or right thumbstick or directional pad. When finished, press the BACK or B button to exit.

Queuing-Up Heroes
In a cooperative game, when you attempt to open the Hero Review screen while another player is actively reviewing his or her Hero, your Hero will be placed in the Hero Queue. Once the active player has finished reviewing his or her Hero, the next queued Hero will automatically come up for review.

Equip Screen
The Equip screen enables you to review and outfit your Hero with various melee weapons, armor, rings, and necklaces. Move the left or right directional pad to display the Equip screen. Move the left or right directional pad up/down to highlight a melee weapon, piece of armor, ring, or a necklace. Press the A button to equip or un-equip, or press the Y button to drop. During cooperative play, you may give items to other players by pressing the X button (see below, "Giving Items in 2-4 Player Cooperative Mode"). Note: Certain melee weapons and armor require proficiencies or can only be equipped by a particular Hero class. Melee weapons and armor that your Hero cannot equip will be grayed out.

Items Screen
The Items screen enables you to review, ready, and use your Hero's items. Move the left or right directional pad to display the Items screen. Then move the left or right directional pad up/down to highlight an item. Press the A button to use or ready an item, or press the Y button to drop. Press the X button to give an item to another player.

Giving Items In 2-4 Player Cooperative Mode
You can give weapons, armor, and items to other players during a cooperative session by highlighting an item and pressing the X button. As needed, indicate the quantity by moving the left or right directional pad up/down. For 3- or 4-player games, press the A button to display the Hero Selector, and then move the left or right directional pad to select the recipient. Press the A button again to give the item.
Moves Screen
The Moves screen enables you to review your Hero's moves and traits. If you have any Level Up points available, you may also unlock new moves or higher levels of existing moves.

Stats Screen (Abilities)
The Stats screen allows you to review your Hero's current abilities. Move the left thumbstick or directional pad up/down to highlight and view information on a specific ability.

- Strength (STR) - Strength affects your Hero's melee and thrown weapon damage. The higher the Strength, the more damage your Hero will cause, and also the more weight your Hero can carry. For fighters, Strength also affects the amount of damage that their Power Moves inflict.
- Dexterity (DEX) - Dexterity affects your Hero's Armor Class (AC) and is a measure of how much damage your Hero will sustain from a hit.
- Constitution (CON) - Constitution affects the amount of bonus Hit Points a Hero gains during level up. The higher the Constitution, the higher the HP bonus.
- Intelligence (INT) - Intelligence affects Mystical Will point gain. The higher the Intelligence, the more Mystical Will your Hero will earn when he or she levels up. Intelligence also affects the strength of the wizard's spells.
- Wisdom (WIS) - Wisdom affects your Hero's Mystical Will recharge rate. The higher the Wisdom, the faster the recharge rate. For clerics, Wisdom also affects spell strength.
- Charisma (CHA) - Charisma affects your Hero's Level Up Point gain on level up. The higher the Charisma, the more Level Up Points your Hero will receive when he or she gains a level (for more about Level Up Points, see "Level Up screen" on pages 28-29). Also, Charisma affects the price and value of items.

Quest Screen
The Quest screen contains information about your Hero's active and completed quests. Move the left thumbstick or directional pad left/right to display the Quest screen. For detailed information on a particular quest, move the left thumbstick or directional pad up/down to highlight that quest.

Quest Items Screen
The Quest Items screen displays the quest items your Hero has acquired. It also tracks your Hero's Soul Shards quantity. Move the left thumbstick or directional pad left/right to display the Quest Items screen. Move the left thumbstick or directional pad up/down to select and view detailed information about a particular quest item.

Level Up Screen
Each time the Experience Bar on the HUD fills up, your Hero can level up. When your Hero levels up, several things happen:
- You gain HP
- You gain MW
- You gain Level Up points that you can spend to unlock or improve moves, traits, and proficiencies
- Every four levels, you can increase an ability score by one

With your Experience Bar full, press the BACK button and the Level Up screen will appear automatically. You can also display the Level Up screen manually by pressing the BACK button, and then moving the left thumbstick or directional pad left/right until the Level Up screen appears.

Level Up Points
During the course of the game, you will earn Level Up Points that you can use to unlock or enhance Power Moves, traits, and proficiencies. Your Hero's current total of expendable Level Up Points appears in the upper right of the screen. Power Moves, traits, and proficiencies appear below, along with an associated cost in Level Up Points, for each one. The Power Moves, traits, and proficiencies that you can't afford are grayed-out.

To unlock or improve a Power Move, Trait, or proficiency, highlight it, and then press the A button. Most Power Moves, traits, and proficiencies have multiple levels; the blue circle fills up for each level that you unlock. Note: It is not necessary to spend your entire pool of Level Up Points each time you level up; you can save and spend them at a later time.

Acquiring or Improving Power Moves
When Level Up Points are earned, you will have the opportunity to upgrade existing Power Moves or add new ones. Once you've acquired a new move, or upgraded an existing one, assign it to a power move combat button.

Acquiring or Improving Traits
Traits enhance your Hero's combat capabilities. Once earned, traits are always active. Unlike moves, you don't need to assign a trait to a combat button.

Acquiring or Improving Proficiencies
Proficiencies allow your Hero to wield certain weapons or wear certain types of armor. Higher levels of proficiencies increase your Hero's performance. Unlike moves, you don't need to assign a proficiency to a combat button.

ADVENTURING

Castle Baale Shoppe
When you reach Castle Baale, you'll have the opportunity to visit the Castle Baale Shoppe. Here you can stock up on magic items, potions, weapons, and armor, or sell off excess inventory for gold. To buy or sell items, simply walk up to the counter and stand on the marker.

Other Shoppes
You may also come across other shopkeepers who will offer items for sale, or buy excess items from you. To buy or sell items, simply walk up to a shopkeeper and stand on the marker.

To sell a piece of armor, a weapon, or an item, move the left thumbstick or directional pad up/down to select it, and then press A button to display the confirmation box. As needed, move the left thumbstick or directional pad up/down to adjust quantity. Press the A button again to confirm and make the sale, or press the B button to cancel.

NPCs (Non-Player Characters)
You'll meet several people who will help by providing missions that lead to your ultimate quest to defeat Kaedin. Rik the Shopkeeper and Vasak the Caretaker are two such people. Help them out, and they'll help you. To interact with NPCs, just walk up to them.
THE MONSTERS
You'll also meet many fearsome creatures during your quest to free Castle Baelen from its evil grip of terror. Learn their different strengths and vulnerabilities (or invulnerabilities) and use them to your advantage. Good luck and good hunting!

HOBGOBLINS
Hobgoblins are aggressive, burly humanoids that wage a perpetual war against all other races. Militaristic by nature, hobgoblins are excellent melee combatants. Hobgoblin shock troops are typically reinforced with archers and skirmishers who are known to wield crude yet dangerous elemental magic.

GIANT SPIDERS
Denizens of caves and dark hallways, giant spiders feed off the blood of the living. Some are known for their painful bites while others have developed a vicious and quick-acting poison. Some spiders even trap wary adventurers in shot-spun webs.

SKELETONS
Skeletons are the animated bones of the dead that mindlessly obey the orders of their evil masters. The powers of these undead vary, depending on what they were in their former lives. Skeletons range from basic melee combatants to powerful spellcasters who now channel their master's magic. They are vulnerable to holy water and the cleric's Turn Undead ability, but since skeletons have neither mind nor flesh, they are immune to poison and mental spells.

BULETTES
Bulettes are huge, voracious predators that attack anything they believe is edible. Covered in thick, hard scales from head to toe, their armored plating makes them nearly invulnerable. Bulettes are solitary creatures that tend to live in bone-strewn lairs near human or halfling settlements where they can find easy access to prey.

TROLLS
Strong and powerful creatures, trolls generally travel in groups and have no fear of death. Their overwhelming strength and razor-sharp claws can rend a body limb from limb. Their ability to regenerate makes them tough to defeat, but they are especially vulnerable to fire and acid.

DROW
Drow, or "Dark Elves," are an evil race of subterranean dwellers whose bodies cannot stand direct sunlight. Their society is matriarchal and the males are often used as grunts in their armies, while the ruling females are known to be gifted yet undeniably sinister spellcasters.

MIND FLAYERS
Virtually all creatures fear the horrifying mind flayers. Evil to the core, they delight in using psionics to toy with and to harm their victims. Their psionic powers also protect them from all forms of mental attack such as fear and stunning. Mind flayers are solitary creatures and prefer to fight from a distance. They have, however, been known to summon other creatures to fight with them.

DESTRACHANS
Destrachans are blind, but their lack of vision does not impair their ability to seek out and kill their prey. They hunt by sound, using their hearing and sonic powers to locate, corner and ultimately devour their foes.

BEHOLDERs
Nightmares do not compare to the true terror of a Beholder. Feared throughout all lands, beholders have powerful magical abilities that create pain and cause disruption for those caught in their gaze. They are fortunately solitary aberrations, as few survive to tell the tale of a beholder encounter.

YUAN-TI
Secretive and evil creatures, the yuan-ti are a highly intelligent and aggressive race of reptilian warriors and sorcerers. Varying breeds of yuan-ti range from the humanoid Purebloods to the bestial Abominations, some of which are venomous. Their reptilian blood also allows them to resist the effects of poison entirely. They are devout worshippers of Merrshaulk, a chaotic evil god sometimes referred to as "The Serpent Lord," and can be fanatical about their religious beliefs.
YRTHAKS
Yrthaks are huge, magical and blind beasts that hunt their prey by sound and movement. They prefer to attack from the air, sweeping the ground with their attacks, and are known to have sonic abilities. Often building their nests in remote locations, Yrthaks are typically solitary creatures.

CLOCKWORK WORKERS
Clockwork workers are magically animated mechanical creations often used by high-level spellcasters to perform menial tasks on a large scale. They are efficient and self-powered once created, and can be quite harmless unless their work is disturbed. Since they have no mind and a mechanical body, they are immune to poison and to all forms of mental attack.

CLOCKWORK SOLDIERS
Like the clockwork workers, clockwork soldiers are magical automatons that exist solely to carry out their master's bidding. Clockwork soldiers are designed to watch over the clockwork workers and ensure their work carries on undisturbed. They are resistant to mental attacks and poison, and are surprisingly fast for their size. They are heavily armored and equipped for combat.

IRON GOLEMS
Unbelievably gargantuan constructs, iron golems are fearsome foes. Their tremendous forearms can shatter even the sturdiest confidence and their poison breath can cripple the strongest lungs. Electrical and poisonous attacks are futile against these magical creations, although ice-based attacks are said to be effective.

FIRE GIANTS
Both brutal and sizeable combatants, fire giants live in militaristic groups and seldom fight alone. They delight in both melee and ranged combat and are resistant to all forms of fire damage. They are, however, vulnerable to ice-based attacks.

MAGMA GOLEMS
Composed of pure molten rock, magma golems inhabit hot, fiery locales. The pure nature of their magma makes them lethal combatants. They are completely resistant to all fire damage, but are vulnerable to ice-based attacks.

RED DRAGONS
Red dragons are known throughout the worlds for their evil nature and insatiable desire for treasure. They are intelligent, confident, and fearless. Fire is their tried-and-true friend, and those who survive a red dragon's fire often die a far less-merciful death.

OSYLTHUS
Dexterous and dangerous, quick-moving osylthurs are demons and are sometimes referred to as "bone devils." Attached to their sickly, skeletal frames are long tails whose ends can pierce the toughest armor to deliver an unholy poison sting. They are naturally resistant to poison and to all forms of mental attack. Osylthurs hate all creatures and attack most anything that moves, employing their dark magic at will. Both holy water and the cleric's ability to Turn Undead have saved many an adventurer from these creatures.

BONE NAGAS
Bone nagas are animated skeletal remains. Their long, slithering bodies move effortlessly and quickly, and they are regularly used as guardians in the temples of the undead. A bone naga strike can deliver a debilitating and painful poison, while its hypnotic gaze can stop the strongest foe in its tracks. Like other undead creatures, bone nagas are resistant to poison and to all forms of mental attack, but are susceptible to holy water and to the cleric's ability to Turn Undead.

BLOOD GOLEMS
A motled and coagulated mess, blood golems are magically controlled by their creators and are built from the blood and body parts of their creators' victims. Blood golems serve as both sentries and protectors, and as warnings to intruders. Since they are constructs, blood golems are immune to mental attacks and poison, and although their creators may be undead, they themselves are not affected by holy water or by Turn Undead spells.
LICHES
Liches are extraordinarily powerful undead spellcasters who have been able to extend their lives beyond the grave. With a wide variety of spells at their disposal, they are often as brilliant as they are insane, and relish the chance to slay a living opponent. Although they are undead beings, their magic is often so powerful that standard undead vulnerabilities cannot be exploited.

ICE BARBARIANS
Ice barbarians are wild and reckless warriors known for raiding mountain villages and mercilessly slaughtering anyone traveling in their territory. The harshness of their environment has toughened their hides and honed their senses, making them resistant to ice and cold. They are, however, weak in the face of fire. Ice barbarians are said to fight with the strength of several men, and they frequently attack in small groups to overwhelm their opponents by brute force.

ICE GOLEMS
Constructed on the subzero planes, ice golems are threatening creatures whose attacks can render their enemies frozen in place. They are massive creations with amazing strength and are able to cause devastating damage with a single blow. Despite their size, they can blend into their surroundings and are able to take their enemies by surprise. Ice golems are especially vulnerable to fire attacks but invulnerable to ice damage.

FROST GIANTS
Frost giants are enormous humanoids that make their home in frozen lands. They are destructive raiders and are often at war with marauding ice barbarians. They are adept warriors but also possess the magical powers of the icy realm they inhabit. The effects of ice-type spells are lost upon them, although fire can be potent against them.

FROST WORMS
Frost worms are the fabric of legends. Rarely seen—or seen often, but rarely survived—they tower over their victims and attempt to devour them with their huge mandibles. Their trills can stop a man in his tracks and their blasts of cold breath can break flesh from bone. The hatchlings of frost worms are often spotted throughout frozen lands, unlike their larger kin. Both large and small frost worms are invulnerable to ice attacks, but especially vulnerable to fire.

RAGE GOLEMS
Magically constructed from rage of their creators, rage golems are unholy creations of evil. These nightmarish figures possess thrashing tendrils and snapping claws, and limited magical abilities that serve to enhance the terror they instill in their victims. Being constructs, they are resistant to poison and all forms of mental attack.

BEBILITHS
Bebiliths are giant, predatory demon spiders that attack anything foolish enough to approach their lairs. Although their bites are ferocious, their webs and magical attacks are cause for greater concern. Bebiliths are immune to poison and are rarely encountered unprotected. Since they are demons, holy water and the cleric’s Turn Undead ability can prove quite useful in an encounter with a bebilith.

GARGOYLES
Gargoyles are magical, flying beasts that make excellent guardians, since they take great delight in the destruction of other beings. They have been known to imitate statues and will wait motionless and without a sound for prey to arrive, swooping in to catch them off guard. Their swiftness and stone-like skin makes a gargoyle a challenge when encountered alone, yet they rarely are.
